

Return to your roots - How we will use your personal data

During the event we will take photographs and video footage of attendees for marketing purposes. This will include displaying the images on our website and other promotional materials. The images that we take will be used to promote Return to Your Roots and other events organised by Khembés and Remani Love.

By purchasing tickets and attending the event you agree to the use of your images in this way.

Our promise

- We will keep your images and personal information secure and will destroy these securely after we no longer require them for this purpose.
- We will not use your image for any reason other than those stated, unless we have a received consent from you.
- We will not share your images with any other 3rd party.

If you have any concerns about the above, or if you have any queries about how these photographs may be used, you can contact us at:

Thank you
